What it is for

By default, a dive is visible only to you. You then choose, dive by dive, to show it to your clubs, to everyone, or to both.

Before you start

- A synced dive (see “Add a dive session”).
- To share with a club or see its shared dives: the club must have accepted your follow (an accepted membership or an invitation code validates it too). A pending, refused or withdrawn follow request is not enough.

What others see

	Your club	Everyone (public dive)
Title, date, duration, depth	Yes	Yes
Photos and species	Yes	Yes
Place name	Yes	Yes
Position	Exact, with the track	Approximate, within about 8 km
Buddy names	Yes	No
Heart rate and health data	Only if you allow it	Never
Your username	Yes	Yes

> The place name is published as you wrote it. If a site has to stay discreet, give it a general name before making the dive public.

Share with your clubs (web space)

1. Open the dive, then click Share.

2. Tick the clubs to share it with.
3. If the dive holds health measurements, tick Share health data or leave it unticked.
4. Click Update sharing.

Clubs can only be chosen in the web space. On the iPhone, the dive detail only shows which clubs it is shared with.

Make a dive public

- Web space: in the Share window, tick Make the session public, then Update sharing.
- iPhone: in the dive detail, turn on Public session. The change takes effect at the next sync.

A public dive appears on the Reefwise public site, and its validated species feed the sightings map. To go back, untick the box: the dive becomes private again.

See shared dives

- iPhone: menu Shared Sessions, with the sections Public sessions and Club sessions.
- Web space: Shared dives in the menu.

Under a shared dive, you can react to a photo and write a comment. Before you Post, choose its Visibility: Owner (only they read it), Clubs or Public.

Good to know

- The badge of the dive shows its state: “Not shared”, “n club(s)” or “Public”.
- Health data is never published, even when the dive is public.
- Public photos are served without their shooting information.
- A public MP4 or MOV video is served without its position: location information is erased, along with every track other than picture and sound (GPS telemetry of GoPro cameras, subtitles, chapters, timecode). Your original file is not changed. A video in another format (WebM, AVI…) or that cannot be cleaned is not published; only its thumbnail is.
